

THE STARR CERTIFICATE IN COACHING FOR MANAGERS

Rigorous. Practical. Qualified.

Overview

- A challenging programme with the potential to gain a recognised accreditation

Successful candidates are accredited by ILM* at either level 3 or 5 (depending on the study track chosen). The programme consists of a minimum of 50 hours study and practice over a 6-8 month period. Successful candidates must be able to:

- Demonstrate the skills and attributes of an effective leadership coach in a consistent manner
- Develop coaching relationships to improve performance in the workplace
- Establish an effective process for facilitating learning and development
- Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of coaching models and how they apply to improving performance in the workplace
- Be able to monitor, evaluate and improve their own effectiveness
- Demonstrate the desire and intention to continue to learn and develop as an effective leadership coach

Who is it suitable for?

- Middle and senior managers
- Internal coaches and mentors
- HR professionals, consultants, advisors

What will they get from it?

In addition to the two plus two day programme (with telephone coaching), successful delegates will:

- Experience the challenge of a formal accreditation process
- Fulfil additional development criteria, e.g. standards agreed with ILM*
- Gain a relevant professional qualification in the context of business and coaching
